Give Dad Something Special On Father's Day

Fathers play a special role in people's lives. Let them know that. On June 19, skip the tie and tell your dad what he means to you from the bottom of your heart. Some suggestions:

- ❖ Write a letter thanking your father. Talk about all he's done and all he means to you. Read it in front of him and the whole family. You can frame it and even add photos or other mementos.
- ❖ Write a thank-you book. Buy a small book of blank pages. On each page, record something you're thankful for. Example: "Thanks, Dad, for all the help you provided on my algebra homework when I was a kid." Send it around to your other siblings and have them contribute their own thoughts of gratitude.
- ❖ Create a record of your father's life. Get family members and old friends to write down their memories of your father. Then write a script incorporating all the stories and present it to him.

Dem Bones

Some tourists in a museum were marveling at a complete dinosaur skeleton. One of them asked the guard, "Do you know how old those dinosaur bones are?"

The guard replied, "They're 70 million and three years old. Three and a half actually."

"How can anybody be so precise?" the visitor asked.

"Well, they were 70 million years old when I started working here, and that was three and a half years ago."

Take Care Of Your Inheritance

A rich, distant uncle dying and leaving you all his money may sound like good luck, but any financial windfall should be managed carefully if you want to conserve it for the future. Remember these tips if you come into some money:

- ◆ Stash it away. Put the money away for at least six months. Trying to decide what to do with the money too soon after a relative's death may lead to questionable decisions. Put it into a money market or savings account for a little while.
- ◆ Assess your debt. Before you decide to invest in stocks or buy something with the money, determine whether the money would be better spent wiping out any debt you currently have.
- ◆ Seek advice. If you receive more than $20,000, consider hiring a financial advisor who can suggest a way to safeguard it while getting the largest or safest return on your investments.

How Fast Do You Want That Package?

Americans tend to be an impatient bunch. A study by a fulfillment software vendor found that 80 percent of U.S. consumers want same-day shipping from retailers, and 61 percent want their purchases shipped out even faster, within three hours.

Retailers haven't responded, at least not yet. The study noted that only 53 percent offer same-day shipping even though 55 percent of buyers indicated they'd be willing to pay for it, and only 20 percent send products within three hours, although 31 percent said they'd be ready to pay for that.

Get More Efficient To Get More Done

If you want to get more accomplished at work, start developing these essential habits to increase your efficiency on the job:

- ★ Turn off cell phone alerts. Resist the temptation to stop what you're doing every time your phone beeps with a new message. You'll be better able to focus on tasks when you're not constantly distracted and interrupted.
- ★ Fine-tune your to-do list. When planning your day, add estimated times to each item on your to-do list. This will help you decide what to do first and what can be saved for later.
- ★ Run two-minute drills. Every few hours, look at your list for tasks that can be done quickly, answering emails and phone calls, confirming appointments, and the like. Spend a few minutes clearing those away, and you'll have more blocks of uninterrupted time to take on bigger tasks.

Beyond Hard Work Focus On These

Hard work is essential to career success, but it's not the only factor that can help you advance and grow on the job. Focus on these additional elements:

- ❖ Purpose. Remember why you're working, what you're trying to achieve in your career. Chances are it's more than just a paycheck. Stay fixed on your purpose and you'll make better decisions moving forward.
- ❖ Development. Never stop looking for opportunities to master new skills and grow, both professionally and personally. The more you know about your industry and yourself, the better positioned you'll be for advancement.
- ❖ Determination. Believe that you can accomplish your goals, whatever they are. Yes, you may fail along the way, but your belief in yourself will see you through the dark times.

Thanks For The Kind Words

"I like the way the staff always looks ahead to future maintenance of issues before they become major repairs. Car service can be like going to the dentist, but I almost look forward to bringing my car in here."

Take Your Pet Along On Vacation

Summer means vacations, and if you have a pet, you may opt to bring Fido or Fluffy along with you instead of asking a neighbor to look in or leaving them in a kennel. With a little planning, a vacation with your pet can be an enjoyable experience for all of you. Here are some tips:

- * Tags. Make sure your pet wears an ID tag with your name, address, and phone number.
- * Travel necessities. Don't forget to pack these important items: Food, water, toy, blanket, brush, plastic bags, etc.
- * Take breaks. When driving, stop often for fresh-air breaks. Make sure your pet is on a leash before you open the car door.

ALLERGIES?

Maybe your Cabin Air Filter is Moldy? Yuck!!

If you're concerned about the quality of air inside your vehicle, make sure that your car cabin filter is regularly replaced. A car cabin air filter, specially designed for particular automobile models, is an important part of the vehicle's ventilation system. It removes pollutants from the air before they can enter the passenger area. The result is a more comfortable environment while driving, which is especially critical for allergy sufferers and those with long commutes.

Auto cabin air filters must be replaced according to the manufacturer's recommendations to ensure properly working filtration. They can usually be found underneath the dashboard, though occasionally they are attached to the glove box or are near the engine. We are happy to tell you when your vehicle's manufacturer recommends replacement.

They're Biting

A millionaire walked past an old man sitting on the curb outside a bar. The old man had a fishing rod, and he seemed to be trying to catch fish in the storm drain.

Taking pity, the millionaire took the old man to a nearby restaurant for a meal. As they ate, the rich man asked, "So how is fishing in that storm drain working out for you?"

"Not bad," said the old man.
"You're the third one I've caught today."
